

What is health care if it's not human?

BRYN MAWR HOSPITAL

130 South Bryn Mawr Avenue | Bryn Mawr, PA 19010

HOSPITAL OVERVIEW

Founded in 1893, Bryn Mawr Hospital is a top-rated acute care facility in the Philadelphia metro area, recognized for its exceptional patient care.

The hospital and its outpatient locations offer a wide range of services, including behavioral health, cancer care, gastroenterology, orthopaedics, neurointervention and neurosurgery, cardiovascular, maternity, bariatric surgery, urology, plastic and reconstructive surgery.

Main Line Health and Children's Hospital of Philadelphia (CHOP) have an affiliation to provide pediatric care to our community. CHOP clinicians provide exceptional care for pediatric patients and their families at Bryn Mawr Hospital, including 24/7 coverage of the pediatric emergency department, pediatric inpatient unit and level III NICU.

Bryn Mawr Hospital offers an all-inclusive inpatient psychiatric program. The program cares for adults struggling with mood, anxiety and thought disorders, co-occurring substance abuse or addiction, and other psychiatric conditions.

Main Line Health is one of the few community health systems in the region offering state-of-the-art neurointervention care. Through our collaboration with the Jefferson Hospital for Neuroscience, Bryn Mawr Hospital is a Thrombectomy-Capable Stroke Center certified by The Joint Commission, in collaboration with the American Heart Association/American Stroke Association. The highly skilled neurointerventional team provides rapid access to advanced diagnostics and treatment for strokes and neuro emergencies, as well as the complete continuum of post-surgical care.

INVESTING IN OUR FUTURE

Bryn Mawr Hospital is dedicated to developing the next generation of healthcare professionals, training medical students, residents and fellows in numerous specialties.

PHILANTHROPY

Each year, Bryn Mawr Hospital receives thousands of charitable donations, both large and small, from the community. Many donors support the Annual Fund; others choose to invest in special projects such as capital campaigns for new facilities and technology, or choose to make planned gifts, such as bequests in their will or an endowment in an area of their interest.
